MEET JARED ALAN MEYERS

Jared Alan Meyers is a Christian singer, musician and songwriter. His love for music started at age 11 when he began singing with his family. He was the lead vocalist for his family's music group, The Meyers Family, for 23 years.

After God closed the door on that ministry, God opened a new door for Jared. He began working for the national renowned gospel artist, The Talleys, as sound engineer / media and video producer. While working with The Talleys for three years, Meyers had several video nominations, including "Hidden Heroes" and "The People in the Line" which won video of the year for Absolutely Gospel Awards in 2017. He's also had several other nominations and awards throughout his career. He has also worked along side many other artists as well.

Jared is now answering God's call on his life again and he is venturing out in a new direction as a solo artist. Although the style is somewhat diverse and different, the message is not! His new CD project God Driven Experiment is a blended musical style that lyrically reflects how to fully trust God and depend upon Him for everything. Meyers says, "my family and I have gone through some really difficult times over the past five years and we have a burden to share with other families that God is faithful."

God Driven Experiment is a collection of songs that parallel our story of faith, hope and trust. Over half of these songs were written by Meyers and they reflect the struggles and challenges he and his family experienced on their faith journey when they wanted to quit and just give up.

He goes on to say, "one of the privileges of this ministry is that my wife Jedda, and sons Mahé and Kylan get to travel and share along side me and we are able minister together as a family."

Above all, our hope is that the lost will come to know our wonderful Savior and believers will be encouraged in their walk with Christ.
